Step 2: Scroll down past the Announcements and locate your Course Widget(s).

Note: Each course your student is enrolled in will have its own Course Widget.

The Course Widget provides a quick view of the student's current grade and shows the pacing progress in the course.

Current Average Grade & Pacing

The current average grade is listed above the percentage bar. The bar is a visual representation of your current grade in the course.

Note: Grades are updated nightly. This grade is the grade in the course gradebook as of the night before.

The last time the student logged into the course is listed under Last Attendance.

Pacing Information

The pacing bar is a visual representation of time in the course and assignment completion progress. The top part of the bar indicates the days since course started and the days left in the course. The bottom part of the bar, the colored part, indicates the number of assignments with grades submitted as well as the number of assignments remaining in the course.

Note: This pacing information is not tied directly to the Pace Chart the student receives from the instructor at the start of the course, but it is a good visual interpretation of progress. Be sure to follow the Pace Chart that is provided in the course from the student's instructor.
